Safe Digging Is No Accident:

Always Call 811 Before You Dig!

PREVENT Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

- Familiarize your family with the facts: Carbon Monoxide (CO) is a colorless, odorless gas that is a product of the incomplete combustion of natural gas, propane, fuel oil, coal or wood. It can result from a faulty chimney, flue or vent from a heating appliance or water heater, and can cause flu-like symptoms, including headache, dizziness, weakness, nausea and loss of muscle control. Prolonged exposure to CO can lead to serious illness and even death.
- Protect yourself, have your heating system and chimney, flues and vents checked by a professional every year before the heating season begins.
- Have a CO detector installed in your home, it could save your life.
- Be ALERT. Look for the signs of Carbon Monoxide. Check around your gas appliances for staining or soot, and/or excessive condensation. Make sure your pilot light is burning with a blue flame, not yellow. If you or someone else has any symptoms, go outside into fresh air immediately. Call 911 for medical attention. Do not return to your home until authorities say it is safe.
